

I don't feel that XM is hurting local programming. It's a pay service and and should'nt be limited to the programming they can deliver.